TURKS PALESTINEA ANNIHILATED BY BRITISH

Advance Sweeps Sixty Miles North and Nazareth Falls To Allenby

Cavalry Leads Way Holds Important Points OH Road To Damacus

ONDON, September 23-(Associated Press)-Throwing back and rolling up the Turkish forces before them the British army under General Allenby, with cavalry well in advance, is sweeping irresistably northward and has virtually annihilated the Otoman forces in that region, it was officially announced last evening.

British cavalry, leading the way for the army of General Allenby, whose front extends from the Jordan to the Mediterranean Sea, have penetrated through Palestine to and beyond the city of Nazareth of biblical renown and have taken Afuli on the railroad to the south of Nazareth and Beizan, on the railroad about fifteen miles southeast of Afuli and which is a little more than forty miles southwest of Deraa on the direct road to Damascus and seventy miles from that objective. When the main body of troops is brought up to the present outposts the British line will extend from Nazareth to the Mediterranean at the important seaport of Haifa.

TURK FORCES ANNIHILATED

The flight of the Otoman army is no retreat, it is a complete and disorderly rout. The morale of the army is broken and the Turks are surrendering by the thousand. In the fighting and pursuit of the past few days, marking the resumption of strong offensive by General Allenby, more than 18,000 prisoners have been taken and big guns to the number of 120 captured. The fleeing Turks have not been able to find time to burn or otherwise destroy supplies and large stores of munitions and other supplies have been

This means that the Otoman army in this region has been virtnally annihilated. The British losses have been surprisingly small. Though unable to cross the Jordan because of the hostile tribesmen on the other bank, small bands of the enemy have sought refuge in the Hills of Eprain and the rough and hilly country between Afuli and Nazareth.

SIXTY-MILE ADVANCE

The advance of General Allenby has proceeded about sixty miles north from its starting point, a line between Jerusalem and lericho. From that line the advance was slow at first while the Turks that took to the hills after the capture of Jerusalem were being driven out into the open or surrounded in their fastnesses.

Once really started it proceeded up the River Jordan, forcing the re-reanized foe steadily before it and mopping up the country from river to sea as it proceeded. Another division proceeded up the railroad through Tul Karim, Samaria, Nablus and Jenin. Between these two advancing forces were hills of Ephraim. The right flank was guarded by the Jordan River and the left flank by the sea where the British were given such naval support as they re-

Thus since late last year Palestine from south of Jerusalem has been cleared of Moslem armed forces to north of Nazareth.
